

ABOUT ME

Bryan Young
Sales Manager

bryany@chromascape.com

As one of our Sales Managers, Bryan Young is responsible for growing market share, directing the training initiatives for the sales force to deliver outstanding on-site value, assisting customers in achieving production cost targets and providing counsel to the sales team and marketplace on key areas like raw material procurement, material handling, best safety practices and targeted marketing strategies.

Embarking on his career with Amerimulch more than two decades ago, Bryan joined the industry during the initial emergence of color-enriched mulch on a nationwide scale. Renowned as a steady figure in the colored mulch sector, he takes immense pleasure in imparting his wealth of knowledge to ChromaScape's diverse customer base and collaborative partners.

Born and raised in South Louisiana, Bryan and his wife Patty are proud parents to four children and grandparents to seven grandchildren. He has called Northeast Ohio home for the past 30 years. Outside of his professional endeavors, Bryan finds joy in activities such as golfing, avidly supporting LSU and Cleveland sports teams and indulging his passion for cooking. He takes pleasure in sharing the rich flavors and cultural traditions of Louisiana cuisine with friends and family.

Top Skills:

Strategic Thinker • Problem Solver • Effective Verbal and Written Communication • Data Analysis • Supplier Relationship Management

Specialties:

Customer Service • Sales Strategy Development and Execution • Sales Force Training

Experience:

ChromaScape: Sales Representative/
Sales Manager

